

Michigan State University, College of Human Medicine, Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology and Reproductive Biology and Spectrum Health Medical Group presents:

Visiting Professor Program

Gastroschisis: Why, How and What?

Wednesday, November 20, 2019
9:30am – 11:30am

Michigan State University
Secchia Center, Room 120
15 Michigan Street NE
Grand Rapids

Andrea L. Greiner, MD, MHA

Dr. Greiner, is a Clinical Associate Professor in the Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology at the University of Iowa Carver College of Medicine. She is the Division Director and Fellowship Program Director in Maternal-Fetal Medicine. She is a Missouri native and an Iowa transplant. Her clinical interests are related to obstetric ultrasound, fetal anomalies, prenatal diagnosis and abnormal placentation. Outside of the clinic, her strengths are in the area of mentorship, health policy and advocacy and addressing rural health disparities in OBGYN. When she isn't working, Dr. Greiner enjoys spending time with her husband and two grade-school aged boys and tries to make time for hobbies of yoga, knitting and baking. She is learning to embrace her husband's new hobby of camping.